Vygo training sessions

Through the Nursing Now Challenge Vygo mentoring platform, both mentors and mentees benefit from bidirectional learning. To support you and your nurses and midwives in creating your free account, we will be hosting three regional training sessions this month. Whilst these training sessions have been scheduled to accommodate different time zones, the same guidance and support will be provided in each session.

Surviving & thriving in midwifery

During this webinar, you will hear inspiring stories from midwives who have survived trials and tribulations and have thrived in spite of them.

We will also invite participants to share written contributions in relation to how they have personally survived and thrived in midwifery. This may be in relation to overcoming professional challenges, setting up new initiatives, whistleblowing activities, bullying, medical errors, legal challenges or anything else which challenged and tested you whilst in the end, provided you with the opportunity to learn, grow and thrive. Your contributions will be shared via a new book to be published and made available globally, 'Surviving and Thriving in Midwifery'.
